MOVING CURRENT dance collective

Promoting the art of dance since 1997

Explore the world of living, breathing
art in motion...

MOVING CURRENT dance collective

The beauty of dance—a universal language that encompasses all ages, genders and cultures. Moving Current is one of the Southeastern region's top modern dance companies; "...simply beautiful to look at." "...works of preternatural power, beauty and ideas." (St. Petersburg Times) Students will learn about the creation and execution of dance, the different ideas and opinions shared by professional artists and their peers and the discipline and passion surrounding the art form. Each concert offers a new program and the chance for students to find their own meaning of the movement as abstract pieces of living art unveil themselves on a canvas of beautiful lighting and costumes.

"The future belongs to a very different kind of person with a different kind of mind—creators and empathizers, pattern recognizers and meaning makers. These people—artists, inventors, designers, storytellers, caregivers, consolers, big picture thinkers—will now reap society's riches rewards and share its greatest joys."

A Whole New Mind, Daniel Pink
